Our school dates back to 1920, when it was a progressive girls' institution in the area. In 2005, it was reborn as a coed school and became the first combined junior and senior high school in Miyagi Prefecture. The new educational system has been very successful. The first and the second graduates after the rebirth have gone on to prestigious universities such as Tokyo University, Tokyo University of Technology, Tokyo University of Foreign Studies, and Tohoku University. However, neither the students nor the faculty are satisfied with this, and we continue striving to improve our school.
